My company has been studying these kinds of cases (see list below) in which young, fit athletes have cardiac-related death or collapse, often right on the field. There have been many more of these incidents in 2021. I assigned one of our CIA-trained analysts to conduct a random sampling to confirm these events below are real.

His reply:

“I reviewed the list, and specifically conducted research on some instances listed, drawing on each month. All of the news stories I reviewed appeared authentic. I also found additional news stories on these cases reported by other outlets. That further corroborated many of the stories.”
